

ROOFING INDIVIDUALS SUCCEED THROUGH EDUCATION

Weatherproofing Technologies, Inc. (WTI) is a global roofing and construction services company headquartered in Beachwood, Ohio, that provides roofing and building envelope solutions to building owners in education, healthcare, manufacturing, government, and commercial industries. We are an affiliate of Tremco Roofing and Building Maintenance, a leading manufacturer of quality roofing systems across North America.

- $20/hour starting wages
- Excellent benefits package including health/dental insurance, 401k, pension
- Paid travel
- Company phone provided
- Industry-leading training opportunities

Long-term career opportunities includes: Field Foremen, Field Supervisors, Estimators, Specification Writers, Construction Associates, Project Managers, Construction Managers, Program Managers, Project Superintendents, Contractor Support Specialists, Regional Business Managers, and more!

No requirements to pay back any tuition or fees.

No obligations to long-term employment.

Apprenticeship Program:

4,000 hours of work instruction, 392 hours of online and classroom instruction, 17 college credit hours

Nationally accredited, non-union, federally sanctioned

No indentureship to WTI

Construction Management Degree Program:

Associate and bachelor's degrees in Construction Management

All coursework is online for employee flexibility – learn where you want, when you want

No out-of-pocket expenses, no commitment to long-term employment, no requirement to pay anything back, ever!

Contact:
Tuwhanna Williams
WTI Education and Community
Outreach
Coordinator

TUWilliams@wtiservices.com

216.695.3858

